

Animal Management Handling 1 Handling Option for many Operations.

RACEWELL SHEEP HANDLERS

Precision handling for prime producers. Racewell – a name synonymous with hardy & effective sheep handlers has built on this legacy with advanced features & technology to take sheep handling to a new level.

The sheep are guided into the handler's lead-up race. Sometimes, they tend to want to go back, but are prevented from backing up by anti-backing flaps along the side and the tapered sides help prevent them turning around. When the sheep enter the handler, the optical sensors or 'magic eyes' trigger the catching mechanism, which is an air-operated clamp. At the same time the animal is clamped, the air-operated entry gate closes behind them, preventing the next sheep from entering. At this point the clamped animal is weighed and can be tipped horizontally onto its side for crutching and various other procedures and inspections. For safety the rear sensors control the entry gate and for the clamp to activate both front and rear sensors, have to be triggered. After the animal has been handled and weighed, a drafting gate is opened and the sheep is released into a predetermined pen. The entire process is done in a matter of seconds, meaning minimal stress on both the operator and animal.

Animal Management Handling A Mobile Option for many Operations.

THE RACEWELL TRAILER SYSTEM

This trailer system is extremely popular with farmers & contractors for obvious reasons. Move farms with ease with this sturdy trailer designed to cover long distances. It features a retractable drawbar, removable wheels & fold down working platform. The hydraulic lift makes it easy & very quick to remove wheels & lower the whole trailer to the ground. The sheep handler trailers come with an optional duratorque suspension for travelling longer distances and a handy pole for mounting your shearing plant.

The Racewell HD Trailer has a strong full length chassis rail, which means it can be put down on uneven surfaces. The fold down platform is a sturdy surface to stand & work from, whatever the ground conditions.

If your sheep handling system needs an upgrade or you are looking to reduce labour and make life easier then now is the time to act! The Racewell Sheep Equipment is ranked No1 in Australia by a recent Kondinon report and is supported with Sales, Installation & Service by TRURO AGENCIES
